excerpt from a voyage of discovery into the south sea and beering s straits vol 1 of 3 for the purpose of exploring a north east passage undertaken in the years 1815 1818 at the expense of his highness count romanzoff in the ship rurick under the command of the lieutenant russia too which since the time of peter the great has possessed a navy and never was in different to any thing that might tend to the improvement of science would not be behind other nations in endeavouring to solve this interesting problem and during two successive years three vessels commanded by the late admiral tschits chagoff father of the present admiral were employed to search for the passage exactly in the north between greenland and spitzbergen this expedition shared the fate of all preceding attempts of the kind without any blame being attributable to the admiral any more than to lord mulgrave who was sent from england seven years later in the same direction and proceeded only twelve minutes farther to the north than the russian commander cook s third voyage though not finished by himself seemed to have put an end to all doubts respecting the possibility of a northern passage but we do not know whether the great man himself really despaired of it his researches in beering s straits brought him the first year to the 70th degree where the ice hindered him from proceeding yet he resolved to renew his researches there the succeeding year this design was frustrated by his untimely end but the resolution he had taken proves that he did not doubt the possibility about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

1772 april i sailed from deptford april 9th 1772 but got no farther than woolwich where i was detained by easterly winds till the 23d when the ship fell down to long reach and the next day was joined by the adventure here both ships received on board their powder guns gunners stores and marines 1772 may on the 10th of may we left long reach with orders to touch at plymouth but in plying down the river the resolution was found to be very crank which made it necessary to put into sheerness in order to remove this evil by making some alteration in her upper works these the officers of the yard were ordered to take in hand immediately and lord sandwich and sir hugh palliser came down to see them executed in such a manner as might effectually answer the purpose intended 1772 june on the 22d of june the ship was again completed for sea when i sailed from sheerness and on the 3d of july joined the adventure in plymouth sound the evening before we met off the sound lord sandwich in the augusta yacht who was on his return from visiting the several dock yards with the glory frigate and hazard sloop we saluted his lordship with seventeen guns and soon after he and sir hugh palliser gave us the last mark of the very great attention they had paid to this equipment by coming on board to satisfy themselves that every thing was done to my wish and that the ship was found to answer to my satisfaction at plymouth i received my instructions dated the 25th of june directing me to take under my command the adventure to make the best of my way to the island of madeira there to take in a supply of wine and then proceed to the cape of good hope where i was to refresh the ships companies and to take on board such provisions and necessaries as i might stand in need of after leaving the cape of good hope i was to proceed to the southward and endeavour to fall in with cape circumcision which was said by monsieur bouvet to lie in the latitude of 54 s and in about 11 20 e longitude from greenwich if i discovered this cape i was to satisfy myself whether it was a part of the continent which had so much engaged the attention of geographers and former navigators or a part of an island if it proved to be the former i was to employ myself diligently in exploring as great an extent of it as i could and to make such notations thereon and observations of every kind as might be useful either to navigation or commerce or tend to the promotion of natural knowledge i was also directed to observe the genius temper disposition and number of the inhabitants if there were any and endeavour by all proper means to cultivate a friendship and alliance with them making them presents of such things as they might value inviting them to traffic and shewing them every kind of civility and regard i was to continue to employ myself on this service and making discoveries either to the eastward or westward as my situation might render most eligible keeping in as high a latitude as i could and prosecuting my discoveries as near to the south pole as possible so long as the condition of the ships the health of their crews and the state of their provisions would admit of taking care to reserve as much of the latter as would enable me to reach some known port where i was to procure a sufficiency to bring me home to england but if cape circumcision should prove to be part of an island only or if i should not be able to find the said cape i was in the first case to make the necessary survey of the island and then to stand on to the southward so long as i judged there was a likelihood of falling in with the continent which i was also to do in the latter case and then to proceed to the eastward in further search of the said continent as well as to make discoveries of such islands as might be situated in that unexplored part of the southern hemisphere keeping in high latitudes and prosecuting my discoveries as above mentioned as near the pole as possible until i had circumnavigated the globe after which i was to proceed to the cape of good hope and from thence to spithead
